ALZHEIMER'S AND MEMORY CARE*

Structured Memory Care — Helping Residents Thrive and Families Have Peace of Mind.

At Morning Pointe Senior Living, our Lantern Alzheimer's Center of Excellence communities are thoughtfully designed to meet residents where they are on their dementia journey—guided each day by purpose, predictability, and compassion.

Some of our free-standing memory care communities offer two distinct levels of support, from early-stage care in the Lamplight communities to more advanced Alzheimer's care in the Lanterns.

At the heart of our approach is the Meaningful Day™ program—a personalized rhythm of life that nurtures each resident's emotional, social, physical, and cognitive well-being. Every meal, interaction, and activity is part of a structured flow that builds confidence, reduces anxiety, and creates moments of success.

Impactful Engagement — Daily moments of purpose and joy.

Our trained Lantern Program Directors create opportunities for connection throughout the day, through:

- Music Therapy – awakening emotional memories and improving mood
- Art and Creative Expression – fostering imagination and fine motor skills
- Volunteer Programs – bringing the community of all ages into the building
- Pet Visits – reducing anxiety and offering unconditional comfort
- Community Service Projects – giving residents a sense of purpose and belonging
- Cuddle Therapy Dolls – nurturing emotional memory and calm

Every resident is known, valued, and celebrated. Activities are personalized to life stories and guided by each individual's unique preferences and abilities — ensuring that every day feels purposeful and familiar.

Why It Matters

Familiar routines bring comfort and confidence to those with memory loss. Morning Pointe's compassionate care fosters dignity, joy, and peace of mind.

A Day in the Life: Meaningful Day™ in Action

Our residents thrive on routine and rhythm. A typical day might include:

Rise and Shine & Breakfast (6–9 a.m.)

Gentle wake-up routines, grooming assistance, and a nutritious breakfast set the tone for the day.

Exercise (9–10 a.m.)

Morning movement, stretching, or guided fitness to boost energy and balance.

Stimulating Activity Time (10–11:30 a.m.)

Rotating programs such as art, music, pet therapy, student visits, or community service projects — each designed to spark connection and joy.

Mid-Morning Snacks & Hydration

Staff encourage hydration throughout the day, offering water, fruit, and juice hourly to support wellness and reduce confusion and fatigue.

Calming Activity Time & Lunch (11:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m.)

Devotions, current events, or sensory activities lead into a peaceful meal with soft background music and social engagement.

Quiet Time (1–2 p.m.)

A calm, restful environment with lights dimmed and soothing music helps minimize sundowning behaviors and promote relaxation.

Afternoon Activity Time (2–4 p.m.)

Interactive programs like art, music, or outings encourage creativity and a sense of purpose.

CASE STUDY

How Assisted Living Can Improve
Day-to-Day Quality of Life

Case Presentation

Resident moved into Morning Pointe in 2023. At that time, the resident required maximum assistance with bed mobility and maximum assistance with any transfers, such as going from the bed to a chair or the wheelchair to the toilet. Unable to walk, the resident was using a wheelchair for mobility. The physical therapist evaluated the resident to have Berg Balance test score of 2/56, a Modified Barthel test score of 19. At this point, safety and stability were the immediate priorities for this resident.

The Approach

The resident's individualized plan of care focused on consistency and encouragement, including daily support from the Resident Assistants, in-house physical and occupational therapy, medication management, nutritious meals, and daily social engagement.

The Progress

Through consistent in-house therapy and structured routines, the resident's strength and mobility gradually improved. Wheelchair use decreased, confidence grew, and independence in daily activities increased.

Life Today

Status as of December 2025 – resident is independent with dressing, self-care/toileting, and wheelchair management; resident can walk 157 feet with a walker in two minutes; improved Berg Balance score to 29/56 and improved Modified Barthel test score to 81.

Why This Matters

This case study reflects how assisted living at Morning Pointe Senior Living supports recovery, independence, and quality of life—one day at a time.

Disclaimer: Care details shared in this case study are based on a Morning Pointe resident. In keeping with HIPAA guidelines, the resident's name and identifying information are not disclosed.
