

Happy Birthday!

17th August 1920

I grew up in Dublin and aspired to be an actress from a young age.

Charles Laughton (English actor) saw potential in me and invited me to co-star with him in Hitchcock's Jamaica Inn in 1939. That same year I moved to the U.S. to appear in the production of The Hunchback of Notre Dame.

Very soon I became the most popular redhead in Hollywood.

I appeared with eight-year-old Natalie Wood in Miracle on 34th Street.

I worked with Douglas Fairbanks and Errol Flynn and made a life-long friendship with John Wayne.

I featured in How Green Was My Valley and in The Black Swan with Tyrone Power.

I married three times and had one daughter.

Happy Birthday!

10th August 1923

I am a retired American actress. I acted in more than 40 films, mostly in the 1940s and 1950s.

My career began when I was still in High School. One day a Hollywood agent stopped me as I was crossing the road and signed me on a 7 year contract without a screen test! I was 17 years old.

I played minor parts in many movies until I landed a substantial role in Spellbound (1945), directed by Alfred Hitchcock. The film was successful and led to another good role in The Spiral Staircase (1946).

I co-starred with many of Hollywood's leading men included Gregory Peck, Robert Mitchum, Kirk Douglas, Glen Ford and Rock Hudson.

I was nicknamed the "Queen of Technicolor" because my fair complexion and flaming red hair photographed exceptionally well in Technicolor.

I married 6 times and had one child.

I was an American musician, composer and actor.

I was among the most influential figures in jazz history.

I began my career playing the trumpet in brass bands and riverboats in New Orleans. As my musicianship improved and I learned to read music, I moved to Chicago. I joined a Jazz band and for the first time, I quit my day job.

In 1924, I joined the Fletcher Henderson Orchestra in New York and the following year I made a cameo appearance as a vocalist and recorded Ain't Misbehavin.

In 1968, I recorded a song that became a number one hit in several countries: What a Wonderful World.

I was married 5 times but never had any children.

Happy Birthday!

15th August 1950

I am a European royal princess.

I am known for my equestrian talents and have won gold and silver medals at the European Eventing Champions. I am the first member of the British Royal family to have competed in the Olympic Games.

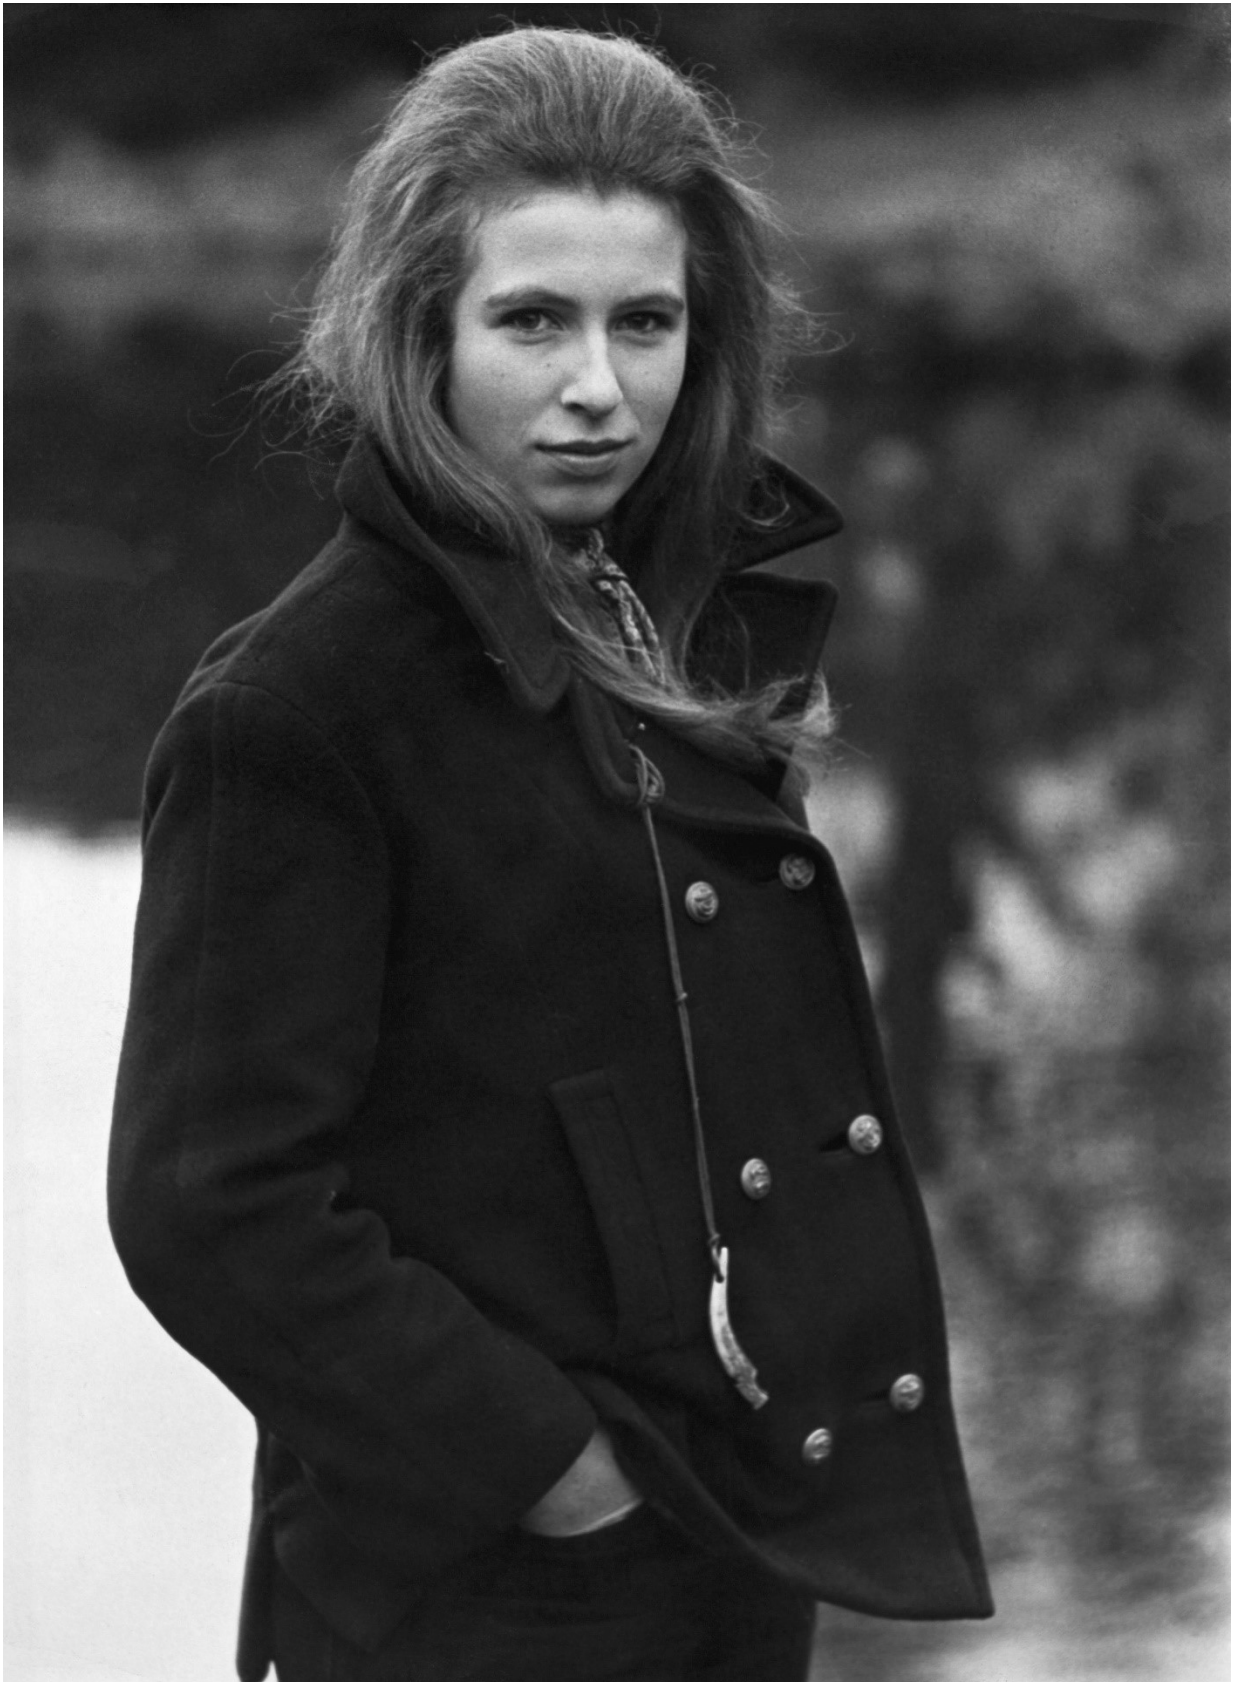

I am known for my charitable work; I am patron of over 200 organizations.

In 1974 as I was going home after a charity event my bodyguard saved me from an attempted kidnap.

I married twice and have two children. My second marriage took place in Scotland because The Church of Scotland does not consider marriage to be a sacrament, and thus has no moral objection to the remarriage of divorced people.

I have four grandchildren.

Happy Birthday!

8th August 1921

I was an American competitive swimmer and actress.

I won multiple national swimming records but unfortunately, I was unable to compete in the 1940 Summer Olympics because of the outbreak of World War II.

I trained in the same swimming pool that gold medal winner Johnny Weissmuller (Tarzan) trained.

I caught the attention of a Metro-Goldwin-Mayer executive and was offered a contract. I became known as the Million Dollar Mermaid in Hollywood.

I made a series of films known as 'aqua musicals'. In 1949, I starred in Take Me Out To The Ball Game; a film that was well received and became a commercial success. The following year I made Neptune's Daughter where I sang with Ricardo Montalban "Baby, It's Cold Outside".

I married three times and had three children.
